Message from your Board

We are pleased to report that, in April 2013, NESS Super received authorisation from APRA to offer a MySuper product. The NESS MySuper investment option reflects the previous “Balanced” investment option as the default, simple, low-cost investment option. The NESS MySuper option was launched on 1 July 2013.

In contrast to the extremely volatile investment markets in 2011/12, we are also pleased to report NESS Super achieved excellent investment returns this year for all our investment options.

The results for the Balanced Option (renamed the NESS MySuper option from 1 July 2013) produced a return of 16.07% for super members and a return of 18.49% for the pension members' Moderate option. For more information, please refer to the Investment report on page 7.

We have also introduced our new name NESS Super, which reflects who we are today, and puts the focus back on super. Our new tagline 'Powering your financial future', captures our purpose: to work hard and provide people in the electrical and communications industries with a strong financial future.

NESS Super is the Fund dedicated to contractors and their employees in the electrical and communications industries. To further assist you in 'Powering your financial future', we have made a number of enhancements to NESS Super and our services. These include:

- a review of our insurance offering to include Total and Permanent Disablement (TPD), from 1 July 2013. Spouse members also now receive default Death and TPD cover (conditions apply);
- our new website, nesssuper.com.au which has been completely revamped, making it more informative and easier to navigate;
- members can now elect to receive their NESS Super statements via email through our eStatements service;
- the development of a clearing house to facilitate employer multiple superannuation fund contributions and the development of Member Join On-line to assist employers with their new employees; and
- continuing member and employer support and education from Mynas Leontios, NESS Super's service representative.

New Logo, Branding and Name Change

powering your financial future

Our new branding reflects NESS Super's new name and our commitment to people in the electrical and communications industries.

The Federal Election and Super Changes

With the election over and a change in the Federal Government, some super certainty should now emerge. The Coalition has announced a more gradual increase in the super guarantee from nine to twelve percent and that the low income super contribution may be repealed.

Experience and personal service

Members and employers can find out more about NESS Super, its products, services and superannuation by contacting NESS Super's service representative, Mynas Leontios.

With over 24 years' experience in superannuation, Mynas provides general superannuation advice to members and employers to help them get the best from NESS Super. Investment report for the year ended 30 June 2013

The Year in Review

In contrast to a challenging 2011/2012 financial year, both global and Australian equities delivered strong performances over the year to 30 June 2013. Central banks had a significant impact on markets. Markets rallied on even the slightest inference of continued central bank support and retreated on comments suggesting otherwise. It was a year where the utterances of central bankers mattered at least as much as investment fundamentals.

Global shares returned 25.3% and 33.9% on a hedged and unhedged basis respectively. As a result of aggressive stimulus, the Japanese market was the standout performer, returning 52% over the past year. The US (21%), UK (16%) and Germany (25%) all posted good results. Even share markets in countries challenged by poor economic outlooks (Greece, Portugal, Spain and Italy) managed to reach positive territory, proving that stocks can perform well in spite of a country's economic fundamentals. In contrast to developed markets, many emerging markets struggled. The Australian share market returned 21.9%. Given concerns about China, it was not surprising that the Materials sector had a weak year, driven largely by the poor performance of smaller resource stocks. The banking and industrial sectors fared much better, particularly higher yielding stocks that had more stable earnings.

Looking Ahead – 2013/14

The US economy appears to be recovering, Europe remains in recession and Japanese authorities are doing everything they can to stimulate even modest levels of growth. China is expected to continue to experience relatively strong growth but at lower rates than in the past. In aggregate, the outlook for economic growth in developed markets remains muted. Economic growth expectations for the Asian region exceed the rest of the world.

NESS Super is focussed on delivering portfolios to members structured to provide attractive returns over the medium to long term while prudently managing the investment risk. Diversification remains the most effective approach to risk management and, over the year, NESS Super's investments were further diversified by the addition of new investment exposures in property, infrastructure and credit. Looking ahead, NESS Super continues to invest members' money with a medium to long term perspective. We believe that this strategy will provide members with sound returns.

Managing your investments

Managing NESS Super's investments is one of the key responsibilities of the Trustee.

In formulating, reviewing and giving effect to the investment strategy for the whole Scheme and each investment option, the Trustee will have regard to:

- a. The risk and likely return of investments;
- b. Liquidity, and the ability of the Scheme to discharge its existing and prospective liabilities, having regard to the expected cash flow requirements of the Scheme;
- c. The availability of reliable valuation information;
- d. Expected tax consequences for the Scheme;
- e. Costs that might be incurred by the Scheme;
- f. The results of any relevant due diligence undertaken; and
- g. Any other matters the Trustee deems relevant.

The Trustee exercises due diligence in developing, offering and reviewing regularly each investment option.

The Trustee takes regard of the factors highlighted above in the development, offering and review of each investment option. The Trustee employs the services of an independent professional Investment Consultant to assist the Trustee to assess that each factor has been appropriately considered, and that the risks taken are appropriate in the context of the objectives, cash flow requirements, liquidity requirements, and consistent with the communications made to beneficiaries of each option.

Investment Managers at 30 June 2013

The Trustee has appointed JANA Investment Advisers Pty Ltd (JANA), a subsidiary of the National Australia Bank, to provide implemented asset consulting services to NESS Super.

The Trustee invested the assets underlying NESS Super's investment options in JANA Investment Trusts and in two MLC Corporate Investment Policies, where JANA selects the underlying investment managers for the various asset classes. The investment options also include legacy investments in trusts managed by the managers listed below that will be realised over time, in consultation with JANA.

- AMP Capital Investors Limited (redeemed in September 2013)
- Macquarie Specialised Asset Management Limited

Reserving policy

NESS Super does not have an investment fluctuation reserve.

Fluctuations in investment returns directly affect members' benefits. A contingency reserve equal to 0.21% of net assets at 30 June 2013, (0.43% in 2012, 0.45% in 2011) was maintained. Its use is strictly governed by a Trustee policy. It is invested in the Stable option.

In accordance with the requirements of MySuper, a reserve has been created in June 2013 through a transfer from the Contingency Reserve to cover risks identified through an Operational Risk Financial Requirement (ORFR) process. An operational risk is the risk of loss resulting from inadequate or failed internal processes, people and systems or from external events. It is equal to 0.25% of net assets at 30 June 2013 and is invested in a separate bank account.

Use of derivatives

While the Trustee does not directly invest in derivative securities, investment managers are permitted to use futures, options and other derivative instruments to assist with the effective management of NESS Super's assets, consistent with the Trustee's Investment Policy. However, these instruments may not be used to gear the portfolio.

The Trustee expects that, over the long-term, the use of these instruments will enhance the returns of NESS Super's investment options.

general information

Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Fees and costs shown in the Fees section include GST and stamp duty if applicable, unless stated otherwise.

Income Tax and its effect on fees

Tax is payable on investment earnings of NESS Super at a maximum rate of 15%. However, as NESS Super is allowed a tax deduction in respect of certain fees and costs, the rate of tax actually payable by NESS Super is likely to be less than 15%.

The benefit of any income tax savings are passed to members indirectly when the Trustee determines the crediting rate that applies to members' accounts.

Insurances

Default insurance cover at 30 June 2013 was 2 units of Death cover and 2 units of Temporary Salary Continuance cover at a cost of $2.40 and $1.25 per week, respectively.

As advised to members in the "NESS Super Notice to Members" from 1 July 2013, NESS Super has extended and improved its default insurance coverage as follows:

2 units of Death cover, Temporary Salary Continuance cover and Total and Permanent Disablement cover at a cost of $2.34, $1.28 and $3.18 per week, respectively. Please refer to The NESS Super Insurance Guide, available on the website www.nesssuper.com.au, for terms and conditions that apply to your age, cover and membership.

Member Benefit Protection

NESS Super protects the benefits of members with small account balances from erosion by administration fees, as required by law for year to 30 June 2013. If your account balance is less than $1,000, the management costs charged to your account cannot exceed the total interest credited during that year. However, a maximum of $10 in administration charges can be applied to your account in a year when the interim or annual crediting rate is negative or low.

At each Annual Review (30 June) or upon closure of a NESS Super account for any purpose, member protection will be applied to members with account balances of less than $1,000. Members who have made a portability claim are not eligible for Member Benefit Protection.

The principles of member protection have been subject to the Super System Review and the introduction of MySuper which requires members to be charged on the same basis with respect to their MySuper interest. Accordingly, it has been repealed, effective, 1 July 2013.

Surcharge

An additional tax known as Surcharge may apply to certain employer contributions and before - tax member contributions for higher income earners for the financial years 1997-2005. This tax was abolished for contributions paid after 30 June 2005. However the Trustee may still receive a surcharge assessment or amended surcharge assessment for you for the financial years 1997-2005.

If the Trustee does receive a surcharge assessment or amended surcharge assessment that applies to you, it will be deducted from your account in the Fund. If the Trustee receives an assessment after you have left NESS, it will generally be forwarded on to the fund or institution to which you have forwarded your benefits.

Changes to fees

The fees quoted on the preceding pages may change from time to time. You will be notified of any increase at least 30 days in advance of the change becoming effective.

These contributions are credited to your NESS Super account.

These contributions are shown on your NESS Super Annual Member Statement and half-yearly transaction report.

You can also access your account online at www.nesssuper.com.au using Member Access to check the payments your employer has made.
