1. About NESS Super

NESS Super is an industry superannuation fund established in 1987 to service the electrotechnology industry. From March 2014, NESS Super became a Public Offer Fund, so membership is no longer limited to the electrotechnology industry.

We are 'MySuper' authorised, so we can accept Superannuation Guarantee (SG) Contributions from your employer. We also offer a range of investment options for you to choose how you invest your super.

We have over 12,000 members with super and pension investments totalling over $980 million as of 31 October 2022.

Our philosophy

We are large enough to matter, yet small enough to care. Our focus is on providing you with a good value, simple, yet comprehensive, super. We do this by offering competitive investment returns, and efficient online solutions, while keeping fees low.

What sets us apart from other funds is our commitment to providing you with a personalised service and a simple, easy to understand, low-cost structure. As an industry super fund, we exist only to benefit you, and not shareholders. We also do not pay agents' commissions.

You can find further information about NESS Super including the NESS My Super product dashboard (in the Investments section), Director and executive remuneration and other Fund documents at nesssuper.com.au or scan the QR code.

2. How super works

What is Super?

Super is money you save and invest for your retirement. Your employer must pay a percentage of your earnings into your super account, and your super fund invests the money until you retire.

Choosing your fund

It's your super, so choosing the right super for you is important.

Simply tell your employer where to pay your super. If you do not elect a super fund when you join a new employer, your employer must pay your contributions into your existing stapled fund if you have one. If not, your employer will open an account in their default fund.

Contributing to super

Super Guarantee Contributions - Employers pay a compulsory contribution to your super known as Superannuation Guarantee (SG) contributions. The SG rate from 1 July 2022 is 10.5% of your ordinary time earnings (subject to a salary cap). The SG rate will increase by 0.5% on each 1 July until it reaches 12% in 2025.

Contributions made by you - You can choose to make additional contributions which can be an effective way to boost your super and build your retirement savings.

Pre-tax contributions: also known as salary sacrifice contributions, may reduce the amount of personal income tax you pay.

After-tax contributions: includes any additional contributions you make from your take home pay. You may also be eligible for the Government co-contribution if you do this. There are also limits (caps) to the amount you can contribute each year.

Refer to ato.gov.au/super for the latest information on contribution caps

Consolidate your super

If you have super in other funds, you can consolidate them in your NESS Super account. That way you'll have all your super together and may pay less in fees. Before closing your other super account, you should consider whether any taxes apply and what insurance cover you have with your other funds. You may also be able to transfer your insurance to NESS Super.

You may wish to consult with a Financial Planner about these issues.

Tax benefits

Tax benefits are provided by the Government to encourage you to save for your retirement and grow your super. You generally cannot access your super until you reach your preservation age (which is from 55 to 60, depending on the year you were born).

For more information on preservation age, visit nesssuper.com.au

Protecting your super

If you have an account balance below $6,000, legislation requires us to transfer your account to the Australian Tax Office (ATO) after 16 months of inactivity.

4. Risks of super

All investments carry risk including super. How you invest your super may depend on your age, how long you invest your super, other investments you may have and your tolerance for volatility.

Different strategies may carry different levels of risk, depending on the assets that make up the strategy. Generally, assets with the highest long-term returns may also carry the highest level of short-term risk

You can choose from a range of investment options, each with a different mix of assets, to suit your needs. The likely investment return and the level of potential volatility of returns will therefore be different for each investment.

A summary of significant risks that you should consider as a member of NESS Super are:

- (a) the value of investments will vary;
- (b) the level of returns will vary, and future returns may differ from past returns;
- (c) returns are not guaranteed, and persons may lose some of their money;
- (d) superannuation and tax laws may change in the future;
- (e) the amount of a your future super savings (including contributions and returns) may not adequately provide for your retirement.

Risks and Returns

Generally, investment in high risk assets will produce higher returns over the long term, with a greater chance of a negative return over the short term. Each of the options above – Cash, Stable, MySuper, High Growth – have increasing levels of risk and increasing potential for long-term returns.

For more information about the investment options available, the asset classes they are made up of and investment risk, go to the Investment Guide available at nesssuper.com.au/pds or scan the QR code.

6. Fees and costs

Consumer advisory warning

DID YOU KNOW?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30-year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You and your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower administration fees. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

TO FIND OUT MORE

If you would like to find out more or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities, and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

Please note that the wording in this box is required by legislation. As NESS Super only charges fees to cover costs, you are unable to negotiate the fees in this PDS.

7. How super is taxed

The tax of super is a complex issue and may change. We recommend you seek advice from a qualified professional or licensed financial advisor if you need more details.

Tax rules on super

Your super is taxed at several different points in your account.

- NESS Super will pay any tax applying to your account directly to the Australian Tax Office (ATO).
- Contributions made from your before-tax salary are generally taxed at 15%. Additional tax may apply if your income and before tax contributions are over $250,000.
- Contributions made from your after-tax salary are not taxed by the fund, unless you tell us you intend to claim a personal tax deduction for the contribution.
- Investment earnings are taxed at a maximum of 15% pa.
- Withdrawals from your account may be taxed if you are under age 60.
- After age 60 you can withdraw your super tax free on meeting a condition of release.
- If you exceed your contribution limits (pre or post tax) you will have to pay additional tax.

You should provide your tax file number (TFN) to NESS Super, so you don't pay additional tax. If we don't have your TFN, your before tax contributions and withdrawals are taxed at a higher rate and we can't accept after tax contributions from you. For more information about how tax in super go to nesssuper.com.au or scan the QR code.
